

LEMLEY EXPECTS

To Complete His Side of The Schley Case This Week.

Commander Miller Who Had Charge of The Merrimac Says He could Have Coaled At Sea On May 26--Disobedience of Orders Not Unusual.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The point in the evidence before the naval court of inquiry that will probably be most emphasized when the final arguments are made is the fact that disobedience of orders was not unusual during the war. If it is shown that Schley used his judgment in modifying orders received from the department, it will be claimed that officers feeling justified by the special information they had, did the same thing. Two clearly developed and one probable case of instructions disobeyed have been presented to the court.

Captain Wise admitted that he did not notify Schley that Cervera was probably at Santiago. He was ordered to give the information to all commanders. He saw the Brooklyn, but did not tell Schley, because he thought the latter had already been informed.

Captain McCalla testified that he had taken all his ships from Cienfuegos, although the department had ordered him to leave one or more small vessels off the Cuban port. McCalla did not obey, because he thought that if he left the Eagle there it would be probably captured by the Spaniards.

A point established by Schley that is considered of importance is that there was no truth in the charge that at night he withdrew his vessels 25 miles, as stated by Sampson, or any other distance from the Santiago blockade. The charge that he withdrew his ships has been repeated in many forms, but with one exception all the witnesses so far called have testified that he maintained a close blockade.

Little surprise would be caused, if when Captain Cook, of the Brooklyn, takes the stand, he should testify that he gave the order for the famous loop at Santiago. It has been stated, however, that even if the Captain does make that statement, Schley will say that he approved the order and will take his full share of responsibility. Then it will remain for the court, if it denies that the maneuver was improper, to divide the responsibility between Cook and Schley.

Captain Lemley expects to complete the presentation of his side of the case this week. It will require two or three weeks more, however, to complete the evidence in the case.

Capt. Sigbee will be on the stand probably today or tomorrow. He was in command of a scout ship and had a conference with Schley off Santiago before the retrograde movement towards Key West was begun. His testimony is regarded as of importance.

There was the usual crowd of 200 at the first session of the court today. Judge Advocate Lemley said to Rayner today he was satisfied that if he called Lieut. Marx who commanded the Scorpion, he would contradict Lieut. Sutherland. Rayner will probably depend upon the logs of the Scorpion and Eagle to contradict Sutherland.

Captain Sutherland corrected his testimony of Saturday.

Question by the court: "Had the fleet of Cervera been in the harbor of Cienfuegos could it have been seen by the vessels on blockade?"

"I cannot positively say; not unless it had anchored in the lower harbor in a deep water place where we saw a schooner. I don't think they would have anchored in that spot."

Commander Miller who had charge of the collier Merrimac, today said that on May 26th he could have coaled at sea. On May 23 and 24 he coaled the Como and Massachusetts.

Commander Miller's records showed that up to May 27 he coaled nearly every ship in the flying squadron.

Schley scored another point today when Commander Miller said he could not have coaled on May 25 comfortably to himself or the other ships. "It was nasty, squally weather," he said, "and of my own wish I would not have attempted it."

Captain Jewell of Minneapolis, on the stand, in reply to a question, said he never told Schley he had seen nothing of Cervera's fleet about Santiago. Schley in his official report made before the beginning of the retrograde movement toward Key West, said Sigbee, Jewell and Wise had been around Santiago for a week and told him they had seen nothing of Cervera's fleet. On cross examination by Rayner, Jewell said: "The captains of four scouts assembled on the Harvard on May 23 and held a consultation. I have no knowledge of any communication made by Sigbee in my name or that of others, to Schley."

Washington, Sept. 30.—In the Schley court of inquiry, Captain McCalla resumed his testimony. He testified that Schley's battleships did not get in range of the Cristobal Colon when an attempt was made in May, 1898, to destroy it as it lay at anchor in Santiago harbor. Shots, however, from the Spanish shore batteries struck over the line of the American warships. Captain McCalla said he attended a conference of commanders called on the Brooklyn on May 25. It was in regard to the work of the blockade. "Captain Evans," said the witness, "said to Commodore Schley: 'If the Spanish ships come out will you go in for them.' Commodore Schley said: 'Certainly' and arranged for a subdivision of the five ships if the enemy came out." Witness again contended that the weather and sea conditions on May 26, 27 and 28 were such as to permit coaling. On July 5 Captain McCalla claimed he said to Commodore Schley concerning the battle: "Commodore, after the battle of Lake Erie there arose an unfortunate controversy. I hope that no controversy will arise over the battle of Santiago, because there's glory enough for us all." This is the oft-quoted phrase which Schley incorporated into his report. It was admitted that the blockade maintained by Commodore Schley was effective.

LOOKING

For Corporal and Three Privates Who are Thought to Have Deserted Camp Here.

Corporal Mann of Company D, 28th U. S. Infantry, now in camp at the State Grounds, and three privates, are thought to have deserted, and a guard has been in down looking for them.

Corporal Mann and a private were under arrest for wasting ammunition and about three days ago took French leave. Sunday night three privates were detected "swiping" rations, and one was arrested Monday morning. The other two caught wind of it and left camp.

If they do not report within ten days they are deserters, and will be punished by imprisonment and a dishonorable discharge, which will disfranchise them.

VETERANS' HOME BURNED.

Atlanta, Ga., Sept. 30.—The Confederate Veterans' Home burned to the ground this morning. Seventy-one inmates of the home were rescued with difficulty.

MCKINLEY'S WILL.

Canton, O., Sept. 30.—McKinley's will was probated today. Judge Day and Secretary Cortelyou were appointed administrators with bond of $100,000. The appraisers will get to work this afternoon.

Painesville, O., Sept. 30.—Ernest Spaulding, the twelve year old lad who was put in jail here Saturday for attempting to wreck a Nickel Plate train, is a wonder. Saturday evening the lad tried open the lock on his cell, dropped out of a second story window and escaped. He was captured at the home of his mother, for whom he had become loathsome.

MYSTERIOUS

Assault Made Sunday Night on the Guard at President McKinley's Tomb at Canton.

Canton, Sept. 30.—The city is deeply stirred today over the attempt of unknown parties to assault the guard at McKinley's tomb. It is the general belief that there was an attempt to blow up the tomb through some hold that the assault was the work of jail birds who escaped from the city prison last night and were bent on getting weapons from the guards to protect themselves from pursuit. The soldiers are prohibited from leaving the matter. Additional guards will be stationed about the cemetery.

Canton, O., Sept. 30.—A mysterious attack was made Sunday night on one of the United States soldiers on guard at the McKinley tomb.

Private DePrend was on guard duty on top of the vault at a point commanding entrance below, when he saw what he took to be the face of a man peering from behind a tree about forty feet from his post. He watched it for twenty minutes, he says, and later saw the man hurry to a tree ten feet nearer. He challenged the man to halt, but this was not heeded and the fellow approached nearer. DePrend leveled his gun and aimed to shoot for effect, but just at that instant another man who came towards him from the opposite side, caught the gun, threw it up, and the bullet was spent in the air. This same man struck DePrend on the right side of the abdomen with a knife or other sharp weapon, cutting an "L" gash in his overcoat an inch and a half long each way and a small one in his blouse. The flesh was not broken, but was bruised under the cuts in the clothing. DePrend, in the struggle, fell and rolled down the side of the vault. Lieutenant Ashbridge, officer of the day, was in front of the vault, and rushed to the top on hearing the shot, but the men made good their escape. The object of the intruders is unknown. One of them, says the guard, had a small white package in his right hand, and the other wore a mask.

THE PLOW TRUST.

Peoria, Ill., Sept. 30.—The plow trust will probably dissolve tonight or tomorrow at the meeting in Chicago. Large plants like that of Berlin and Orendorf of Canton, Ill., and Deere & Company of Moline, who make half of the plow output, say they are better satisfied to go it alone.

LAST DAY

Before the Law of Associations Takes Effect—Big Religious Exodus from France.

Paris, Sept. 30.—Today is the last day before the law of associations takes effect. By this law all religious orders not especially authorized by the government must leave France. This will be the largest religious exodus since the Edict of Nantes. As a result of the law three quarters of the religious orders existing in France a month ago have already emigrated, including the Jesuits and Resurrectionists against whom the law was especially directed, except where individuals entered French families as tutors.

WILL NOT GO.

Paris, Sept. 30.—Trappist monks who must leave France under the law of association, declare they will not do so but that they will barricade their monasteries and defend them with their lives if necessary.

SERIOUS

Is the Charge Preferred by Mrs. Charles Wise Against Her Husband, who is a B. & O. Engineer.

Charles Wise, a well known B. & O. engineer, was arrested this morning on a warrant sworn out by his wife, Mary E. Wise, charging him with attempted criminal assault on his six year old daughter, Elizabeth. Wise was locked up and will have a hearing in the police court Tuesday morning at 9 o'clock, Mrs. Wise being quite ill and unable to appear in court before that time. Mr. Wise as far as known, has heretofore borne a good reputation, and his many friends hope that the charges are unfounded.

FIFTY

KILLED, OTHERS WOUNDED IN SAMAR

COMPANY OF AMERICAN TROOPS SURPRISED BY FILIPINOS.

A SEVERE REVERSE REPORTED.

Official News Comes From the Wild Province of Samar—A Punitive Expedition Speedily Organized—The News at Washington—Story of the Attack Cabled from Manila.

Washington, Sept. 30.—A corrected story of the dispatch from General Chaffee telling of the disaster to Company C, of the Ninth Infantry, on the Island of Samar has just been posted by the War Department. It shows that the insurgents captured all except three rifles instead of 12 as first reported. It is silent as to the fate of the officers and it is not known whether they are among the survivors although the press accounts say they all escaped. General Chaffee says that an investigation will be made.

Adjutant General Corbin has cabled for further particulars, but does not expect an answer to his message until this evening or tomorrow.

Following is General Chaffee's dispatch, as corrected:

"Manila—Adjutant General. Washington: Hughes reports following received from Bassey, southern Samar: 'Twenty-four men Company C, Ninth Regiment U. S. Infantry, eleven wounded, have just arrived from Balangiga; remainder company killed. Insurgents secured all company supplies and all rifles except three. Company was attacked during breakfast morning September 28. Company 72 strong. Officers Thos. W. Connell, captain; Edward A. Bumpus, first lieutenant; Dr. R. S. Griswold, Major, surgeon. Investigation will be made. (Signed) "CHAFFEE."

Manila, Sept. 30.—A dispatch from General Hughes, commanding in the island of Samar, reports the arrival of a sergeant and private from the fight at Balangiga, with the information that Captain Connell, Dr. Griswold and Lieutenant Bumpus were killed in that disastrous affair. First reports said the officers escaped. The attacking force consisted of 400 bolomen, about 150 of whom were slain by the Americans. The attack was so sudden that many of the soldiers were cut down before they could get their arms.

Washington, Sept. 30.—The disaster to Company C, of the Ninth Infantry, at Balangiga, Island of Samar, reported to the War Department by General Chaffee yesterday, is the worst reverse our troops have met with since the war in the Philippines began. In fact, it is the only one of serious magnitude. There have been other defeats but they were all of minor character. Of the 24 survivors who escaped, eleven were seriously wounded.

Washington, Sept. 30.—General Chaffee on Sunday cabled the war department from Manila as follows: "General Hughes reports following from Bassey, Southern Samar: 'Twenty-four men, Ninth Regiment, United States Infantry, wounded, have just arrived from Balangiga, remainder company killed. Insurgents secured all company supplies, and all rifles except twelve. Company was attacked during breakfast, morning, Sept. 28; company 72 strong; officers, Thomas W. Connelly (captain); Edward A. Bumpus (first lieutenant); Dr. R. S. Griswold (major surgeon), escaped."

News of the disastrous fight between troops of the Ninth Infantry and the insurgents in the island of Samar created a sensation in official circles. It was the first severe reverse that has occurred for a long time. Still the officials were not unprepared for news of just this character from Samar, in which the revolution started by Aguinaldo still continues. Samar is a country about as large as the state of Ohio, and the American forces of occupation number in all between 2,000 and 3,500 men. These are distributed among various posts in the island, a large number being located at the very important centers. Spain never made any effort to occupy Samar and it only has been for probably three months past that the United States has undertaken that work. RECORD

Established by the Eddys in a Trip of Over Two Thousand Miles in an Auto.

Chicago, Sept. 30.—Records were not striven for by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Jerome Eddy, but it is believed they established one when last evening they completed a 2000 mile trip in an ordinary automobile in 50 days actual riding time, and without meeting with a serious accident.

They had the distinction of being fined for riding too fast in Pittsfield, Mass., on the same day that former President Cleveland was arrested there for unlawful fishing. Mr. Eddy paid a fine of $5.00 in the court room where one of the Cleveland fishing party, who assumed the responsibility of the ex-President, was assessed $2.

The entire journey was made in a $1200 machine of eight horse power, propelled by gasoline.

ZIMMERMAN

Offered to Loan the Duke Money at Five Per Cent, With Good Security.

New York, Sept. 30.—A London cablegram to the World says: The settlement of the Duke of Manchester's debts by his mother, the dowager duchess, instead of by his millionaire father-in-law, indicated that the relations between the duke couple and Eugene Zimmerman are not the most pleasant in the world.

It is said that Mr. Zimmerman offered to furnish the necessary money, but on condition that it should be treated as a loan at five per cent, the duke assigning as security his life interest in Tandaragee. When no relaxation of these terms could be secured the dowager duchess stepped in with the money.

The young Duchess's allowance of $100 a month was given on condition that the duke's relatives would provide a similar amount for him. His grandmother the Duchess of Devonshire, allows him $5,000 a year, in consideration of which the duke assigned the lease of Kimbolton Castle for 21 years to his uncle, her son, Lord Chas. Montague.

The dowager duchess and Miss Martha Evans are with the duchess at Down Place. The duke, the most exemplary and devoted of husbands, scarcely ever leaves his wife's side.

Two bullets penetrated her body, but the physicians claim there is a chance for her recovery. Winfield was captured one mile out of town, and was brought to this place and lodged in jail.

The young man who was with Winfield's affianced arrived to her cousin, who had just arrived from his home in Huntington, W. Va.

HE DREAMED

That False Teeth Went Down and They Did—An Operation to Remove Them.

Baltimore, Md., Sept. 30.—Maurice A., the 19 year old son of James A. Brooks, swallowed while asleep, a plate with false teeth attached. He was dreaming that the plate had become detached and had slipped down his throat and awoke to find the dream a reality. He aroused his father, who hurried him to a physician living near by, but after an examination the youth was told that he had not swallowed the teeth. A thorough search was made at his home, but the missing plate could not be found. As the choking sensation continued and the boy was unable to eat, the father took him to the Johns Hopkins Hospital, where Dr. Finney made an examination and found that the teeth had lodged near the top of the breast bone. Every effort to remove them through the mouth failed and an operation was necessary.

An incision was made in the throat about the top of the breast bone. The plate could then be plainly seen, but it was too deeply imbedded to be removed. The incision was then sewed up and laparotomy performed, the stomach being opened. A rubber tube was then passed into the stomach and up the food tract, or esophagus, past the plate and out the mouth. A cord, with a sponge at one end was then attached to the protruding end of the tube and the latter pulled. The cord and sponge followed it, and the sponge catching against the plate, pulled it down the esophagus and thus into the stomach, whence it was removed. The operation is a rare one, but young Brooks is expected to recover.

TOMORROW

Next Race Between Columbia and the Shamrock Will be Sailed—Saturday's Race Still Discussed.

New York, Sept. 30.—An anxious, but determined lot of yachtsmen gathered at the New York Yacht club for another talk over the exciting race of Saturday, when the Columbia won the first contest for the America's cup by only 81 seconds, including 46 seconds' time allowance. The chances of the Columbia in her next race with the Shamrock II, on Tuesday, were also discussed, as was the dread question of the prospects of the famous clip at last returning from whence it came, after being in American hands a brief month over half a century. Every one hopes for the best and many recalled that during the preliminary racing with the Constitution and Independence, the Morgan boat had shown much speed when sailing with started sheets. In the race on Tuesday, if the wind holds true, two of the legs of the triangle will be sailed under these conditions. On those two reaches all the racers have shown great speed, and the Columbia has frequently made one of the ten miles of the triangular races in something under three quarters of an hour.

BOY BADLY HURT.

Little Willie Priest, the twelve-year-old son of Mr. Wesley Priest, who lives two miles north of Newark, on the Robert Owens farm, was the victim of a serious accident on Sunday. The boy was playing on a coal car that was standing on the switch, near the first B. & O. railroad crossing north of Newark, when a chunk of coal was thrown carelessly or fell from a passing freight train. The chunk struck the boy on the head, inflicting a very painful injury. A doctor was called and it was necessary to take several stitches in the boy's head. The wound, though painful, is not thought to be serious.

CAUSE

Of the Death of Mrs. Simpson Shown by an Autopsy—It Was Not Suicide.

The peculiar circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Clifford Simpson, which occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Walker in Newton township, on Friday afternoon last, led Coroner Evans to investigate.

Under his direction Drs. D. M. Smith of this city, and Amel Marriott of Louisville conducted an autopsy Saturday night, and found that her death was due to an aortic aneurism, or rupture of an artery near the heart.

The idea that the powder she took was with suicidal intent is thus proven to be untrue.

The coroner will render a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Hughes to the war department was that the number of insurgent rifles on the island aggregated about 300. The Filipinos carried on a guerilla warfare and operations against them were difficult. The disaster to Company C, of the Ninth infantry, occurred, it is believed, while it was engaged in an expedition to clear the country of roving bands of these insurgents. The fact that the Americans were attacked while at breakfast indicates the daring and pluck of the insurgents.

Company "C" was a portion of the Ninth regiment of United States infantry, which went to China at the time of the Boxer outbreak and which there performed valiant service. Later the troops went to Manila, and were engaged in provost duty in that city. During the past summer a battalion of the Ninth was sent to Samar. All the officers connected with company "C," which was almost wiped out by the insurgents, are named in General Chaffee's dispatch, there being no second lieutenant now with the company.

The captain, Thomas W. Connell, who commanded the company, was appointed to the military academy from New York in September, 1899, and First Lieutenant Bumpus was appointed to the army from Massachusetts, having served as a private in company "A," First Massachusetts heavy artillery. Surgeon Griswold is a recent addition to the army, having crossed the Pacific ocean with Adjutant General Corbin on his trip to the Philippines.

Story of the Attack.

Manilla, Sept. 30.—A disastrous fight between United States troops and insurgents occurred the 28th in the island of Samar, near Balangiga. A large body of insurgents attacked Company "C," Ninth infantry, only 24 members of the company escaping. All the others are reported to have been killed. The company were at breakfast when attacked and made a determined resistance, but the overwhelming numbers of the insurgents compelled them to retreat. Of the survivors, who have arrived at Basey, eleven are wounded. According to the latest returns the strength of the company was 72. The survivors include Captain Thomas W. Connell, First Lieutenant Edward A. Bumpus and Dr. R. S. Griswold, surgeon. Captain Edwin V. Bookmiller, of the Ninth infantry, reports that General Hughes is assembling a force to attack the insurgents. The insurgents captured all the stores and ammunition of the company and all the rifles except twenty six.

Captain Lawrence J. Hearn, of the Twenty-first infantry, reports a severe engagement with insurgents near Candalaria. The Americans losing one killed and two wounded. The insurgent loss has not been ascertained. The Americans captured 30,000 pounds of rice and several hundred rounds of ammunition.

VOLUNTEERS

IN THE LATE WAR WITH SPAIN ARE ENTITLED

To a Bounty of Nearly Three Hundred Dollars, According to this New York Dispatch.

Monday morning's Cincinnati Enquirer, published the following telegram from New York:

It has been discovered by a lawyer of Brooklyn that every volunteer who enlisted during the Spanish-American War is entitled to bounties amounting to $276, provided for by a Federal and State statute, passed many years ago. The State bounty law provides for the payment of $84, and the Federal law $192 to each volunteer.

It is estimated that the discovery of the old laws will cost the state about $2,000,000 and the Federal Government about $5,000,000.

The matter is now pending before Attorney-General Knox, at Washington, and John C. Sexton, P. S. Idling Judge of the State Court of Claims. It is said that the 3,000 claims represented by the attorney will be allowed without any extended legal contest. The matter is expected to be settled within the next ten days.

During the Civil War bounties of $300 were paid to volunteers. Some time after the war this law went out of existence. To provide for future contingencies the State and Federal that the bounty laws make no mention of service within the boundaries of the country. The laws provide for the payment of bounties upon enlistment.

During the late war two classes of bounties were paid by the Federal authorities. To those privates who enlisted for service in any part of the world $31.20, or two months' additional pay was allowed. Officers of all grades were allowed two months' extra pay. To those volunteers who would not leave the country one month's extra pay was allowed.

The discovery of the old law was made by accident while the attorney was looking over some old Federal statutes.

RALLY DAY

At the First Presbyterian Church—Program of the Day—The Twentieth Century.

Sunday was Rally Day at the First Presbyterian church, this city, and the forenoon services were given to the observance of a religious and patriotic program, covering the progress of the past nineteen Christian centuries. The Rev. Lester S. Boyce presided and introduced the program, which consisted principally of the pastor giving a brief resume of what was done during the nineteen Christian centuries and summing up the grand inheritance they had brought to us. A number of patriotic airs were introduced in the program as well as religious hymns, and during the progress of the program Mrs. Boyce sang "The Pilgrim Fathers" as a solo, in fine style. The exercises closed with prayer and benediction, the leading thought being, what of the twentieth century upon which we have just entered?

The lowest tide in any large sea is in the Mediterranean. At Toulon there is about four inches, which is the average for the whole Mediterranean.

"Newark Day" and is to Address the People—Prospects for a Successful Fair.

Thursday, Oct. 3, will be "Newark Day" at the Licking county fair which begins a four day session at the Old Fort Tuesday, Oct. 1.

Secretary Farmer announces that there has been an unusually large number of entries and that the speed lists are well filled thus giving assurance of a first class county fair. Aside from the usual program, the fair man-

COLONEL JAMES KILBOURNE, who will this year introduce a number of novel features. The fair has been widely advertised and all that is now needed for a large attendance and a successful exhibit will be good weather.

The Democratic committee, through its officers, extended an invitation to Colonel James Kilbourne to visit the Licking county fair on "Newark Day"—the third day of the fair—Thursday, October 3, and this invitation has been accepted with the positive assurance that Colonel Kilbourne will be here. Col. Kilbourne will address the people from the grand stand during the afternoon and all citizens of Newark and Licking county are invited to hear him.

The committee has named the following reception committee to meet Col. Kilbourne upon his arrival at the B. & O. station at 12.20 p. m. Thursday and escort him to the Old Fort. Hon. Wm. Bell, Jr., Chairman; Judge John David Jones, Judge Waldo Taylor, J. H. Newton, Fred Koehendorfer, John P. Sullivan, Frank Gruber, James Alspach, D. W. Sturman, John Doyle and William King.

It has been suggested that business be suspended Thursday afternoon in order that proprietors of stores, their clerks, professional men and all in the city may have an opportunity of attending the county fair. It is understood that a number of stores will close on Thursday at noon.

"What is your death rate here?" asked the prospective purchaser. "That depends," replied the suburban real estate agent. "We have three undertakers in town and their rates vary." "Marriage," remarked the woman of the world, "brings a man out." "I guess that's right," sighed the unsophisticated woman. "Since I've been married my husband has been out about five nights every week."

Houses in London are sold with or without their "furnishings and fittings."

WORK OF THE LUNGS.

THE NECESSITY FOR PURE AIR AND PROPER BREATHING.

Respiratory Gymnastics Tend to Strengthen the Resisting Force of Nature to Disease—The Lesson of the Black Hole of Calcutta.

To my mind the part of the physical man upon which depends all the possibilities of mental resource is that part which has relation to respiration and which for its perfect work depends upon the quality of the air we breathe, the quantity respired and the method thereof. The apparatus for respiration consists of the lungs, which are double, the one on the right side having three lobes, the other on the left only two. We must always bear in mind that nature is generous in her provisions, and she has given us so much of lung tissue that a large part can be quickly exhausted and become inactive, yet life endure for its legitimate three-score years and ten and its duties and activities, continue unimpeded by any conscious lack. Under the microscope the lung tissue shows an infinite number of tiny cells or ultimate lobules. Some have estimated these at five or six hundred million, and, wonderful to relate, only with the first breath that the infant draws are both lungs ever filled with absolutely new air. All through life there is necessarily what we call a residual air, which may be of a greater or less amount, according to the breathing habit of the individual. It is said that the extent of surface through which the oxygen passes is approximately 100 square feet, and the excretion from the lungs daily is over two pints of poisonous matter. In fact, it is certain that at least one-third of the waste and poisonous matter caused by the activities of the organism, its growth, repair, decay, is excreted through the lungs.

Unfortunately, a great majority of mankind breathe very superficially, using only part of this large area of lung tissue. Even if persons are out of doors, unless by wise activity, the deep cells of the lungs are not aerated for the simple reason that very few men or women know how to free the lungs properly. Dettweiler states that "deep breathing not only ventilates the lungs and aids the circulation, but in many cases is able to strengthen the muscles of the thorax, especially those about the upper part of the chest." And I believe that we have a right to expect from respiratory gymnastics a real strengthening of the resisting force of nature to disease. Even if the lungs have begun to break down, honest effort in this direction will supplement medication.

One of the methods of correct breathing is to put the hands lightly on the hips, fingers backward; throw the shoulders well back, hold the chest up, chin in, and then inhale slowly through the nose as long as possible. When the lungs are filled, retain the air until some discomfort is experienced, then, forming the lips in the shape of a letter O, exhale as slowly and evenly as is consistent with comfort, making a slight blowing sound. Such an exercise for five minutes, clad only in one garment or better, with no garment at all, night and morning, in a well ventilated room, will do very much in man, woman or child to develop the lung capacity, improve the carriage of the body and enrich the quality of the blood, which depends upon the activity of the lungs for its purification.

It is no wonder that so much care has been given by nature to the apparatus for the respiratory function, for we know perfectly well that man has lived as much as sixty days without food, he has been forced to exist for some time without water; but, alas, without air death must come in a brief space of time!

For instance, in 1756, 146 persons were confined over night in a small space not larger than 5,900 cubic feet, with only two little windows on one side. Within an hour all broke out in a profuse sweat. They were tortured with thirst and difficult breathing, and in three and a half hours the majority were delirious. Then when the morning came forty-three only lived to tell the tale. Another extreme case was at the battle of Austerlitz. Three hundred captured soldiers were confined in a small cellar, and within a few hours all but forty were dead. The reason is self evident. The air was insufficient for the demands of each individual, the poisonous exhalations from the body were thrown off through the lungs, and a most agonizing death ensued. It behooves us, then, most carefully to consider in arranging for the ventilation of homes, hotels, hospitals and jails not only that a proper quantity of pure air shall be allowed free circulation, but also to be watchful lest this pure air shall be vitiated by retained impurities.

A great many investigations have been made to ascertain the relation of air to disease, and perhaps the simple statement of the fact that among all industrial classes those are healthier and have the lowest death rate who are gardeners, farmers, agricultural laborers and fishermen—in other words, those whose occupations are carried on in the open air—will be a truth all can understand.

What a lesson, then, to all who may have families of children to rear! How important that every effort should be made to secure the largest amount of air space about the dwelling, plenty of room for the children to play out of doors, and by all means avoid having little ones sleep in an apartment which the winds of heaven do not visit. HANS' GREAT SCHEME

HE TRIES A NEW ONE AND IT PROVES A WINNER.

The German Cobbler Gets an Idea From the Grocer's Boy That Brings in Plenty of Work and Promises to Make Him Wealthy.

[Copyright, 1901, by C. B. Lewis.]

I don't haf but one shoe to mend for three days, and my wife vhas crying vhen dot grocer's white headed boy comes in und says:

"Hans, you vhas a good feller, und I like to gif you some new ideas. How much vhas it to go by der dime museum?"

"Elefen cents, maype."

"No, it vhas only 10. Vhat makes peoples go to dot place?"

"To see some sights."

"Oxactly. In some dime museums I haf seen giants, dwarfs, volcs, wildcats, snakes und der legless und armless man. Vhy don't you be some dime museums?"

"How can I? Vhas I a dwarf or a snake?"

"No, but you can be a dime museum. Did you effer see a feller haf some fits?"

"Naffer in my life."

"Vhell, I show you how she vhas vhen he haf some fits."

Und dot boy he opens his mouth und rolls his eyes und shakes his head und almost scares me out of der shop. Den he says:

"Dot vhas better ash giants or dwarfs or snakes. You vhas some free dime museums. Der pooble pays nottings at all to see you haf fits. It vhas fits free to customers. See?"

"But who likes to see a feller mit a fit?" I says.

"Eaferypody does. By golly, but if a horse falls down, a dog gets hurt or a boy falls off der fence don't more ash one thousand peoples stop to see? If a horse vhas sick, you can't get past for der crowd. Don't you make some mistake on my white eyebrows."

I don't like to haf some fits, but dot boy he talks und talks und talks, und by und by he makes me a sign dot says: "Keep Out of Dis Shop. Der Cobbler Vhas Liabie to Fits." I don't belief she vhas any good, but I put him oop in der window at night before I go to bed. I don't hardly get my shop open next morning before a womans mit two shoes comes in und says:

"I vhas buying some butter at der grocery vhen I saw your sign, und so I hurries home to get some shoes to mend. Put on two cement patches und show me a fit."

I roll my eyes und shake my head und click my teeth, und dot woman laughs und claps her hands und says: "Beautiful! Beautiful! For 20 years I like to see somedody haf a fit, und now I vhas satisfied. Cobbler, you vhas

"COBBLER, YOU VHAS A SUCCESS." a success. Eafery day I shall bring in some shoes to mend, und you shall show me some fits."

In ten minutes a mans comes in mit some heels to fix, und he looks around mit carelessness und says:

"Do you mean dot you haf some fits for der benefit of customers?"

"I do," I says.

"Vhell, you might gif me a small one dis morning, so I can see if I like him. I used to see some fellers mit fits vhen I vhas in der army, but dot vhas a long time ago. Proceed, but be a liddle careful. If you should bite me in your fit, I shall knock your head off."

I make a small fit for him, und he stands back und looks und nods und says:

"Shust so. Couldn't be beat, cobbler. I shall willingly pay 2 shillings to fix dose heels, und pretty soon I shall bring in more shoes. Arpody can be a wild mans from Borneo und eat raw beef, but it takes a smart mans to haf some fits. Keep her oop."

You bet dot pleases me, und my wife she smiles und says we don't go by der poorhouse next winter. In a liddle while some other womans comes in. She haf two pairs of children's shoes to be fixed, und she says to me:

"Cobbler, bow vhas it about fits?"

"She vhas all K. O. Ma'am," I says.

"Vhas it regular fits?"

"He vhas."

"Do you roll your eyes?"

"I do."

"Vhell, I vhas glad you don't deceive me. I don't care to see some fits myself, but my liddle boy vhas lonesome, und like something to amuse him. I shall send him oaf der dose shoes dis afternoon, und I hope you vwill haf some first class fits for him."

Der next caller vhas a man. He looks werry solemn und serious, und after he buys a box of blacking und some shoe-strings he says:

"I vhas a customer now, und I like to ask about dose fits. How do you feel vhen you haf 'em?"

"Like some mad dogs."

"Do you suffer mit your heart?"

"I do."

"Und your eyes vhas blind?"

"Stone blind."

"Vhell, I see sooch fits in Africa, und it vhas always death in der end. It vwill be so mit you. Vhas you a good man?"

"Der werry best."

"Und prepared to die?"

"Of course."

"Den you may go ahead. I like to see a shoemaker die in a fit. Don't be stingy, but gif me all der vhas in it."

I haf some fits for him, but I don't die. He looks disappointed about der for awhile, und den says:

"Vhell, I don't suppose you can die till your time comes. It vhas a first class fit, und I shall come in often und see more of 'em. So long ash you haf fits I don't haf to go by der circus or theater."

Der next caller vhas one of dose dago cobblers. He hears about my fits und my good luck, und he likes to catch on. He brings me in a shoe und says:

"One patcha ten cent."

"All right," I says, but he goes on:

"One ten cent—one fitta."

"Nota on your life!" I says, und I make him go out so queek dot he falls down.

More ash ten odder peoples comes in mit shoes, und it vhas night before dot fat policeman vhas in und says:

"Look here, cobbler, vhat about some fits?"

"She vhas all right."

"No, she vhas'nt. I runs dis town, und if anypody vhas to haf fits it vhas me. How dare you haf fits?"

Vhen he says like dot to me, I roll my eyes und tell out und shump for him, und vhen he runs out doors I turn der key on him. He comes back und hammers mit his club und says he shall pull me in for a policy shop, but I keep still until he vhas tired out. Dot eafenings der grocer's boy comes in to see how she vhas, und vhen I tells him dot I take in $4 he grins und says:

"Cobbler, it vhas all in understanding human nature. Vhen you can't haf some more fits, all customers must come in free to see your baby scalded in a tub of hot water." M. QUAN.

"You bet he is. It comes of constant practice."

HIGH SCHOOL

SENIORS WILL PUBLISH THE HET-UCK THIS YEAR.

Norton Beecher Elected President of the Junior Class—Basket Ball Team.—Notes.

School has opened as quietly und smoothly as if vacation had been but a day. This is due partly to the system of records in various forms, whereby each teacher knows in advance what pupils are assigned to her, und each pupil knows exactly where he is to go. At the office is kept on file a complete list, showing the name of each pupil in every room, his age, address, und the name of his father und mother. Bound in a big book are the records of scholarship of each pupil in each study, made at the end of each semester, also showing whether the pupil was promoted.

The Junior class has organized, the election of officers resulting as follows: President, Norton Beecher; Secretary, Ida Moore; treasurer, Lawrence Craig. White und green were chosen as the class colors, und the carnation was adopted as the class flower.

The Senior class has decided to publish "The Hetuck" again this year, und are now busy working. The subscription list is rapidly growing, as are the advertisements. The price will be the same as heretofore, fifty cents a year. The magazine will be issued monthly. It is hoped that the first number will be out by October 10th. The class met und elected the following editorial staff: Editor-in-Chief, Olive Spencer; business manager, Aaron Warman; assistant business manager, Mary Haight; local editor, Edna Goff; exchange editor, Martha Black; subscription editors, Helen Crane, Martha Wilson.

The Girls High School Basket Ball team have commenced work for the year. The champion team will be picked later. Mondays und Thursdays are the days appointed for practice at Hickey's Hall. The teams are composed of the following: Helen Crane, Stella Howard, Helen Weiant, Amy Everett, Ethel Brillhart, Ethel Metz, Florence Fulton, Helen Jones, Margaret Nichols, Mary Haight, Bright Hilliard, Francis Priest, Ida Moore, Miss Carrie Allen will act as substitute.

The Basket Ball teams held a meeting Thursday und elected the following officers: Helen Crane, business manager; Ethel Brillhart, Captain; Amy Everett, secretary und treasurer.

Misses Helen Graff und Edna Norman presided at the piano in chapel during the past week.

Two of the new type writers are now in service, giving the best results. The Underwood is expected this week.

The enrollment of the High School is 266. The Commercial Freshman class is indeed a large one—numbering forty-nine.

A new platform has been erected for the piano und furnishes many advantages. It is to the left of the platform which was already there.

The weekly music lessons are given to the High School students on Friday mornings by Miss Metcalf.

Miss Ema Gault, who was on the sick list, has resumed her studies.

Howard Brillhart und Oren Anderson of the class of '01, are attending the O. S. U.

The Seniors had a test in astronomy Friday.

The Superintendent will meet the teachers of the first und second grades, the beginners grades, next Wednesday instead of Thursday.

The typewriters are now stationed in chapel, for which stands have been procured.

New report cards are being printed for the High School students to take home for signature each month. These will be somewhat different from those used last year.

Friday has been appointed as the day for the school children to attend the Fair, because on that day school will be dismissed.

The list of commercial students keeps on growing und now numbers 57. It is likely to reach 90, as a total enrollment this year. Evidently the course is greatly appreciated.

The past week the superintendent held two meetings of teachers, one for those of the fifth und sixth grades, und the other for the seventh und eighth. A part of the hour at each meeting is devoted to practical psychology in its bearing on education. Other themes are to be proper pronunciation, enunciation, und diction, und how they are to be improved in the subjects of reading, language, grammar und composition.

A copy of Webster's International Dictionary has made its appearance for the library und will be placed there as soon as a holder is obtained.

The upstairs room hitherto vacant, in the West No. 2 school house, has been furnished with desks, und is occupied by 36 pupils, in charge of Miss Alice MacMahon. So now all three rooms in this building are in use, und the lower grades at No. 3 are full. All this is caused by the expansion of the West End.

The periodicals in the library now rest on a table, the counterpart of the one previously there, which is now used exclusively for a book table.

A set of the MacConn historical maps has been sent on trial by the publishers. They are mounted on iron stands und seem to be just the thing for their purpose.

Superintendent Townsend expects to spend the fair holiday und the Saturday und Sunday, following in visiting Mrs. Townsend, who is detained at Marshall, Mich.

The teachers are very much gratified with the new text books selected, und feel an increase of interest in their teaching from the use of modern works.

Mr. Childs, the new High School principal, holds a meeting every Monday of the faculty of that department.

AMUSEMENTS.

MIRE HALL—Miss Clara Hall has colved a telegram from her brother, Mire Hall, at Chicago, announcing that he will be home Tuesday. Mr. Hall has been in the Philippines for three years.

The Keystone Dramatic Company arrived here from the north on Sunday, und will occupy the boards of the Auditorium this week. Popular prices.

The "Way Down East" company left on B. & O. No. 104, on Saturday for Canton. This company did a good business at the Auditorium Saturday night, und pleased the audience.

The Hunley-Harris company, en route from Columbus to Bellairs, passed through the city on B. & O. 104 Sunday.

Primrose & Dockstader's minstrels passed through the city on B. & O. 104 on Sunday, en route from Cincinnati to Pittsburg. They occupied two special cars. This is one of the big great minstrel organizations in the country. They will give an entertainment at the Auditorium, this city, on the evening of October 29, under the auspices of the Newark Lodge of Elks.

Potatoes form the world's greatest single crop, 4,000,000,000 bushels being produced annually, equal in bulk to the entire wheat und corn crop.

ADDRESS

Delivered Sunday Afternoon at the Y. M. C. A. Meeting by Prof. C. L. Williams of Granville.

DENISON LOST

First Foot Ball Game of the Season to Wittenberg at Springfield, by a Score of 18 to 0.

Prof. C. L. Williams of Denison University, Granville, gave a splendid talk at the Y. M. C. A. on Sunday afternoon which was listened to by a large und appreciative audience. He had for his subject, "How Much is a Man Better Than a Sheep." He compared the sheep with a man in different phases, bringing out the distinction that Christ wished to give the man over the sheep. He spoke of Christ, taking for the subject matter his parables und teachings in every day life. He spoke of the people of today regarding the using of ordinary objects to bring out great truths as being rather commonplace, not lending sufficient dignity to the subjects. He said it was like a man fighting a candle in a room und then lighting another candle und placing it in the room to see if the first candle was lighted. He spoke of that famous saying of Christ "Behold the lilies of the field, how they grow. They toil not, neither do they spin, yet I say unto you that Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." A learned Englishman tried to improve on that saying but could not do it, it cannot be improved on.

He spoke of the assassination of President McKinley. He said that this was one instance where the sheep was superior to man, as a sheep would not be guilty of such a crime. He compared the difference between a working-man und a tramp; that the mechanic had made a man of himself und that the clerk had an aim in life; that they both, through honesty und integrity, are building character worth, the while; "that thing," designating the tramp, is not to be compared alongside of the man.

The address gave a wholesome idea of the true character of manhood, und was a true test of the popularity of Prof. Williams in Newark.

Rhode Island made iron soon after its settlement, in 1636, certainly at Pawtucket und elsewhere, as early as 1675, when a forge at Pawtucket, erected by Joseph Jenks, Jr., was destroyed by the Indians in the Wampanoag war, as well as other iron works und infant enterprises.

Springfield, O., Sept. 30.—The foot ball season in Springfield was opened Saturday afternoon by Denison meeting Wittenberg on the local field in a sea of mud. Wittenberg's goal was never in danger, Denison being unable to get the ball into Wittenberg territory except when she punted. Twenty und fifteen minute halves were played. Wittenberg scored three touchdowns in the first half, Bushey kicking all the goals. Fumbling was the feature of the game. This was almost unavoidable on account of the muddy condition of the field und the slippery ball. Nothing but straight football was attempted. Bowers, right end, gained the most ground for the Wittenberg team. Jones, one of the backs was Denison's star player. The second half of the game was played mostly in Denison's territory, but a fumble at a critical moment saved them from being again scored on. McGiffin und Waterman were taken out of the game for alleged slugging. The final score was 18 to 0 in favor of Wittenberg. The line up:

Wittenberg (18) (0) Denison. Itching Scalp.

Scalp Head and the most violent forms of Eczema and Seborrhea Promptly and Thoroughly Cured by Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment.

Among small children, scald head and similar itching skin diseases are most prevalent, and the worst feature is that these ailments, which are apparently trivial at first almost invariably develop into chronic eczema if neglected.

There is but one treatment that physicians are unanimous in recommending for scald heads and eczema, and that is Dr. Chase's Ointment, the great antiseptic healer. It promptly stops the distressing itching which accompanies these diseases and positively produces a thorough and complete cure.

Mr. J. H. Grant, Detroit, Mich., writes:

"For three years I have been troubled by an intense itching on my body. So terrible was it at times that I could get no rest night or day. I tried all kinds of ointments and blood purifiers, but could get no relief. Mr. H. A. Nicolai of 379 Division street recommended Dr. Chase's Ointment. A few applications stopped the itching and I have felt nothing since."

Baby Eczema.

Mr. F. S. Rose, of 133 Sixteenth street, Buffalo, N. Y., writes:

"Our baby boy suffered for some time with that wretched eczema, and we were unable to find anything to cure or even relieve his pain. A few applications of Dr. A. W. Chase's Ointment stopped the itching and healed the sores, and a bright, natural skin now takes their place."

POISONED

CATTLE ON WELLS' PLACE NEAR PATASKALA.

Four Dead and Three Dying—Excitement is Intense—May be Trouble. Arsenic Was Used.

Pataskala, O., Sept. 30.—There is intense excitement throughout this community over a dastardly outrage committed on the George R. Wells place about three miles east of Pataskala.

Some unprincipled person poisoned Mr. Wells' cattle, two having died on Saturday, two more on Sunday, and early this morning it was stated that three more were dying.

Six of the steers and cows belonged to Mr. Wells himself, one being the property of Benjamin Belt of Outville. They were fine stock.

Thursday night some one entered the field where the cattle were confined and fed them bran which is supposed to have been sprinkled with arsenic. The stomach from one of the dead steers has been removed and sent over to the Ohio State University where it will be subjected to a chemical analysis.

Nearly two hundred people assembled at the Wells farm Sunday, having come to see the stock and discuss the crime.

Various rumors are afloat and it is altogether probable that there will be further developments. The guilty party is believed to be known.

ONE

Grave Received the Five Bodies of the Curtiss Family, Drowned by Mrs. Curtiss.

Akron, O., Sept. 30.—At a little stone farmhouse at Town Line, 15 miles north of Akron, Sunday, the whole countryside attended the funeral of Mrs. Perry Curtiss and her five children. The mother, who drowned her babies and herself, was prouder of them than of anything else on earth unless it was her long golden hair. The five babies were buried in one wide, deep grave in the Boston Township cemetery. Neighbors decked the caskets with flowers.

A new development in the case is that Mrs. Curtiss worried because her husband, it had been said, had promised Florence Kilmer, his young housekeeper, that he would drink no more if she would come to keep house for him. He had refused to make his wife such a promise, and she grieved over it.

CONVENTION

KNIGHTS OF KHORASSAN TO BE HELD AT MARION.

Wednesday, October 16, Date of this First State Meeting—Newark Temple Represented.

Marion, O., Sept. 30.—The first grand convention of the Knights of Khorassan will be held in this city Wednesday, October 16, in which the following lodges will participate. Cleveland Columbus, Sidney, Toledo, Bellare, Newark and Celina.

At this first convention it is hoped to organize under definite rules, which will provide for an annual meeting, officers will be elected and a permanent organization will be the outcome. If this is successfully done, it will be to the credit of the local lodge of having entertained the first gathering, and some of its members will undoubtedly secure some of the higher offices in the state meeting.

W. G. Lucas, the secretary of Khorassan Temple, has been in active correspondence with the various temples, and all have insisted that they will be represented here with a crowd. Sidney and Toledo lodges are each expected to run a special train, while at least seventy-five are expected from Cleveland, and every lodge will take part in the parade, which is expected to be a hummer. The demonstration early this spring, when the local lodge was instituted will not compare, for seven or eight hundred knights in fantastic uniform will participate. The dramatic feature of the order will be prominent everywhere.

Three of the imperial officers will be present to add dignity to the occasion. A large number of candidates from Marion and neighboring counties will be initiated in the order, and the work will be begun in the afternoon and continued until late at night, in the Grand opera house. At the close of the work a banquet will be served.

Young Man Had No Little Trouble in Obtaining a Marriage License at Lancaster, O.

(Lancaster Eagle.)

Mr. John W. Drumm, Jr., a prosperous young farmer near Thornville, called at the Probate Judge's office on Thursday morning to secure a marriage license to wed Miss Minnie A. Farmer of Richland township.

The Judge of course, was willing to accommodate the young man, but before he had begun filling out the blank he discovered that he was only 20 and his intended bride was but 17 years old, and he informed him that the license could not be issued without the written consent of the girl's guardian or parents. He would also have his father's consent.

The young man started back at once, driving to the home of his intended bride and secured the written consent of her parents. He then took the young lady with him to see his father, who agreed to accompany him to the city and secure the necessary papers.

The trio arrived in the city at a late hour last evening, he having driven something over sixty miles and was still twenty miles from home. The papers were issued and the service of a minister to tie the nuptial knot, was the next thing needed.

Judge Kelfaber succeeded in finding Rev. Richardson by phone and arranged with him to come to the Judge's home on North Bond street and perform the ceremony there.

It was not long until the little party had assembled at the Judge's home and at exactly 8:30 o'clock the ceremony was performed in the presence of Mr. and Mrs. Kelfaber and they were declared man and wife.

The happy couple, after thanking the Judge for the interest he had taken in their behalf, left for the home of the bride's parents.

Farmers Warned.

Prof. C. E. Thorne, director of the Ohio Agricultural Experiment station at Wooster has sent out warning to farmers not to sow wheat. He says that the Hessian fly is propagating and will surely cause the loss of any that has been planted. He advises that no more be sown until after one or two heavy frosts and that the fields already sown be replanted. Prof. Thorne says that the fly has never been known to be so numerous as it is this fall.

News of The Railroads.

Goes With B. & O.

Philadelphia, Penn., Sept. 30.—F. D. Casanave, for many years identified with the Machinery Department of the Pennsylvania railroad as Superintendent of Motive Power of its lines cast of Pittsburg and Erie, has resigned to take up the important position of Mechanical Superintendent of the entire B. & O. system. His headquarters will be at Mt. Clare Station, Baltimore, and he succeeds I. N. Barr, who has connected himself in the same capacity with the Erie road. Since the perfecting of a working arrangement by the Pennsylvania with the B. & O. and its representation in the directorate of the latter line, railroad men have looked for a transfer of officers between the two systems. Therefore, the appointment of Mr. Casanave is not altogether in the nature of a surprise. This significant appointment is interpreted by railroad men as the conclusive proof that the Pennsylvania will have much to say in B. & O. affairs in the future, and that the mechanical department will be the first to feel its effects.

Pan Handle Statement.

The comparative statement issued by the Pan Handle for the month of August is as follows: Gross earnings, 1901, $1,832,046; 1900, $1,610,571; operating expenses, 1901, $1,187,080; 1900, $1,048,950; net earnings, 1901, $644,966; 1900, $561,621; charges, 1901, $297,085; 1900, $287,318; surplus, 1901, $347,881; 1900, $274,303.

Mr. Barrett Resigned.

J. M. Barrett, Superintendent of Terminals for the B. & O. has resigned his position at Wheeling to accept a similar one with the Erie Railway company in New York. His new duties will be closely connected with the control of the many terminals in New York under the management of the Erie Company. His successor's name has not been made public.

An Able Man.

Jacob N. Barr, who next week takes the position of Mechanical Superintendent of the Erie, is a very able man. He left the service of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul to go with the B. & O. as Superintendent of the Mechanical department. He now leaves the B. & O. to take service under his former chief, F. D. Underwood, who is now President of the Erie.

The above item is of local interest from the fact that Mr. Charles Sowers, by a well known Newark boy, has been holding an important position under Mr. Barr for some time past.

NEWARK

Well Represented in the London

"Linked Ring" Exhibition of Photographs—284 Prints.

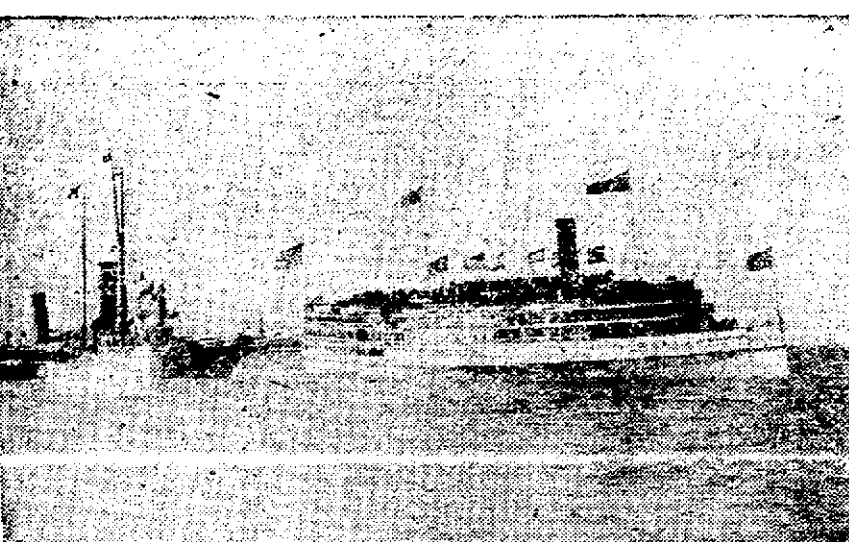

The ninth annual exhibition given by the "Linked Ring" the most noted photographic association of the world, is now being given in Dudley gallery, off Egyptian hall, London, England.

Of the 284 prints on exhibition, 34 per cent are productions of the United States photographers, being nearly 100 in all. Of these, eleven are pictures made by Clarence H. White, three by T. M. Edmiston, two by Miss Emma Spencer, of Newark, two by Miss Stanberry of Zanesville, and one of Mrs. Geo. A. Stanberry, also of that city. It will be noticed that about 20 per cent of the American exhibit was produced by members of the Newark Camera Club, which has the reputation in the photographic world, of doing some of the finest work done in the United States. Mr. White had a larger number of prints accepted than any other photographer.

Nell—"His conversation was rather spicy." Belle—"Yes; I noticed that his breath seemed suggestive of cloves."

Wigg—"What is the first step to become a successful bookkeeper?" Wagg—"To be a successful book-borrower."

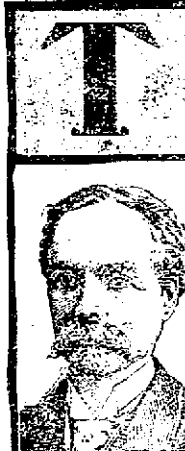

The first thing a woman does when she opens an account with a department store is to ask where the complaint desk is.

EXCURSION STEAMERS AT THE INTERNATIONAL CUP RACES.

This picture gives only a hint of the great number of excursion steamers which have been present each day of the yacht races. All kinds of craft are represented, from small tugs to great sound steamers, each one loaded to the guards with enthusiastic spectators.

COEDUCATION

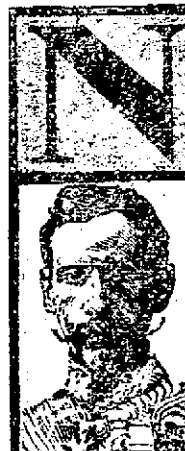

HERE are those who question the advantage of the present overwhelming tendency, especially in the west, toward collegiate and university coeducation. Certainly in no part of the educational field has greater progress been made than in the facilities for the education of women, AND SHRIVELED MUST BE THE SOUL THAT WOULD HAVE IT OTHERWISE. Vassar, Smith, Wellesley and Bryn Mawr have long marked a higher standard than similar schools for women in other lands, and now colleges abroad, like Girton and Newnham, enjoying high university affiliations, are at last finding their worthy counterparts here in Radcliffe, Barnard and others. IT IS AN INSPIRING PROGRESS, and even if it may have been carried in some institutions to an illogical development the error, if error there be, will cure itself. But certainly it must be admitted that the western trend to direct coeducation in colleges and universities is plainly at variance with another development we have all regarded as characteristic of progress toward the higher education—the process of differentiation and specialization. Grant at once, as a thing nobody in this age dreams of questioning, the right of woman quite as clear as the right of man to learn everything, yet the fact remains that the great majority of women, seeking an advanced education will probably in time come to do the same thing the men do—specialize it with reference to the life they are going to lead. And the girl graduate from one of the great coeducational universities is not, as a rule, going to lead the same life as the bachelor of science or the bachelor of electrical engineering.

WHITELAW

Editor of the
New York

IF THE HIGHEST PROGRESS BE IN DIFFERENTIATION AND SPECIALIZATION OF EFFORT, THEN WOMEN ARE ENTITLED TO THAT PROGRESS AS WELL AS MEN, AND UNIVERSITY COEDUCATION, THOUGH PERHAPS AS YET THE MOST ECONOMIC, IS MANIFESTLY NOT THE BEST WAY OF SUPPLYING IT.

On the disadvantages that some think they find in throwing the two sexes into the intimacy of a common college life at the most impressionable period, when their thoughts ought to be on their books and are so easily kindled instead into dreams of love and matrimony, I do not imagine it profitable to dwell. The parents who send their sons and daughters to coeducational institutions know what they are doing. One can only say about the system they are likely to select what Mr. Lincoln said about the book, "If you like this kind of a book, then I reckon this is just about the book you would like."

HOW CHINA IS WAKING UP

By
SIR
CLAUDE
MACDONALD
Former
British Minister
To China

One can live in China for any length of time without realizing the vast possibilities of the empire. It has wealth untold in the way of minerals and chemicals and has only needed an awakening to utilize this wealth. In my opinion, China will now be developed less by foreigners than by the Chinese themselves, who are beginning to inquire into foreign methods.

The uprisings of the last year have operated to convince the educated Chinese that their only hope of salvation is to adopt foreign improvements, and when the ruling classes have reached this decision they will bring the masses around to the same way of thinking. When the mandarins understand that there is untold wealth at their very doorsteps, THEY WILL LOSE NO TIME IN FILLING THEIR COFFERS and will do so by using foreign machinery and supplies.

With this development of China's mineral deposits the people will come to depend less upon the crops, and famines will become less frequent. It is undoubtedly true that the great drought of 1890-1900 was one of the chief causes of the uprisings which resulted in such great loss of life.

THE CHINA OF THE FUTURE WILL BE AS DIFFERENT FROM THE EMPIRE OF TODAY AS JAPAN DIFFERENT FROM THE EMPIRE OF TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO. I AM NOT PREPARED TO SAY THAT THE PROGRESS IN CHINA WILL BE AS RAPID AS THAT IN JAPAN, BUT IT WILL BE NO LESS SURE.

FOUR-LEAF CLOVER

Brought No Luck to Mr. Walton—Lost
Pocket Book Which Contained
About $40.

Mr. John Walton, the well known barber, believes no more that a four-leaf clover is an emblem of good luck, and it will require indisputable evidence to re-establish his conviction of the truth of the old impression.

Sunday afternoon a friend of Mr. Walton, Mr. W. W. Jacobs, found a number of four-leaves and later meeting Mr. Walton, gave the latter one of them. Mr. Walton opened his pocket book and dropped the leaf in, putting it back into his pocket.

This was near the B. & O. depot, and between there and his home, he lost the pocket book, containing between $37 and $40, together with a number of receipts and other valuable papers.

What's Better Than Home Indorsement?

Mr. E. T. Johnson, Newark, O.
Dear Sir:—My wife suffered for 10 years with Rheumatism and gradually became worse. Tried different doctors and various remedies without relief. One day some two or three years ago a friend told her of your preparation, RHEUMATOL. After using eight small bottles, (it was then put up in 50c size) all rheumatism disappeared, and has never returned. Not only did it cure Rheumatism but a very bad case of Eczema of 20 years standing. A dreadful case it was—the sores and scabs spreading over back part of neck into the hair. Several doctors treated her for this malady but no relief of any consequence until RHEUMATOL was used. This Rheumatol cured Mrs. Brandt of Eczema as well as Rheumatism and neither has returned during this entire period of nearly 3 years, for which my wife and I are sincerely grateful, and we heartily recommend RHEUMATOL to any one suffering from Rheumatism or Eczema.

CAUSE

Of the Death of Mrs. Simpson Shown
by an Autopsy—It Was Not Suicide.

The peculiar circumstances surrounding the death of Mrs. Clifford Simpson, which occurred at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Walker in Newton township, on Friday afternoon last, led Coroner Evans to investigate.

Under his direction Drs. D. M. Smith of this city, and Amzi Marriot of Louisville conducted an autopsy Saturday night, and found that her death was due to an aortic aneurism, or rupture of an artery near the heart.

The idea that the powder she took was with suicidal intent is thus proven to be untrue.

The coroner will render a verdict in accordance with the facts.

Hughes to the war department was that the number of insurgent rifles on the island aggregated about 300. The Filipinos carried on a guerrilla warfare and operations against them were difficult. The disaster to Company C, of the Ninth infantry, occurred, it is believed, while it was engaged in an expedition to clear the country of roving bands of these insurgents. The fact that the Americans were attacked while at breakfast indicates the daring and pluck of the insurgents.

Company "C" was a portion of the Ninth regiment of United States infantry, which went to China at the time of the Boxer outbreak and which there performed valiant service. Later the troops went to Manila, and were engaged in provost duty in that city. During the past summer a battalion of the Ninth was sent to Samar. All the officers connected with company "C," which was almost wiped out by the insurgents, are named in General Chaffee's dispatch, there being no second lieutenant now with the company.

The captain, Thomas W. Connell who commanded the company, was appointed to the military academy from New York in September, 1899, and First Lieutenant Bumpus was appointed to the army from Massachusetts, having served as a private in company "A," First Massachusetts heavy artillery. Surgeon Griswold is a recent addition to the army, having crossed the Pacific ocean with Adjutant General Corbin on his trip to the Philippines.

Story of the Attack.

Manila, Sept. 30.—A disastrous fight between United States troops and insurgents occurred the 25th in the island of Samar, near Balangiga. A large body of insurgents attacked Company "C," Ninth infantry, only 24 members of the company escaping. All the others are reported to have been killed. The company were at breakfast when attacked and made a determined resistance, but the overwhelming numbers of the insurgents compelled them to retreat. Of the survivors, who have arrived at Bacey, eleven are wounded. According to the latest returns the strength of the company was 72. The survivors include Captain Thomas W. Connell, First Lieutenant Edward A. Bumpus and Dr. R. S. Griswold, surgeon. Captain Edwin V. Bookmiller, of the Ninth infantry, reports that General Hughes is assembling a force to attack the insurgents. The insurgents captured all the stores and ammunition of the company and all the rifles except twenty-six.

Captain Lawrence J. Hearn, of the Twenty-first infantry, reports a severe engagement with insurgents near Candalaria, the Americans losing one killed and two wounded. The insurgent loss has not been ascertained. The Americans captured 30,000 pounds of rice and several hundred rounds of ammunition.

VOLUNTEERS

IN THE LATE WAR WITH SPAIN
ARE ENTITLED

To a Bounty of Nearly Three Hundred Dollars, According to this New York Dispatch.

Monday morning's Cincinnati Enquirer, published the following telegram from New York:

It has been discovered by a lawyer of Brooklyn that every volunteer who enlisted during the Spanish-American War is entitled to bounties amounting to $276, provided for by a Federal and State statute, passed many years ago. The State bounty law provides for the payment of $84, and the Federal law $192 to each volunteer.

It is estimated that the discovery of the old laws will cost the state about $2,000,000 and the Federal Government about $5,000,000.

The matter is now pending before Attorney-General Knox, at Washington, and John C. Sexton, Presiding Judge of the State Court of Claims. It is said that the 3,000 claims represented by the attorney will be allowed without any extended legal contest. The matter is expected to be settled within the next ten days.

During the Civil War bounties of $300 were paid to volunteers. Some time after the war this law went out of existence. To provide for future contingencies the State and Federal that the bounty laws make no mention of service within the boundaries of the country. The laws provide for the payment of bounties upon enlistment.

During the late war two classes of bounties were paid by the Federal authorities. To those privates who enlisted for service in any part of the world $31.20, or two months' additional pay was allowed. Officers of all grades were allowed two months' extra pay. To those volunteers who would not leave the country one month's extra pay was allowed.

The discovery of the old law was made by accident while the attorney was looking over some old Federal statutes.

RALLY DAY

At the First Presbyterian Church—
Program of the Day—The Twentieth Century

Sunday was Rally Day at the First Presbyterian church, this city, and the forenoon services were given to the observance of a religious and patriotic program, covering the progress of the past nineteen Christian centuries. The Rev. Lester S. Boyce presided and introduced the program, which consisted principally of the pastor giving a brief resume of what was done during the nineteen Christian centuries, and summing up the grand inheritance they had brought to us. A number of patriotic airs were introduced in the program as well as religious hymns, and during the progress of the program Mrs. Boyce sang "The Pilgrim Fathers" as a solo, in fine style. The exercises closed with prayer and benediction, the leading thought being, what of the twentieth century upon which we have just entered?

The lowest tide in any large sea is in the Mediterranean. At Toulon there is about four inches, which is the average for the whole Mediterranean.
